Saturday's Liberal Meeting

The campaign meeting in Stony Saturday night in the interests of Hon Chas. Stewart was well attended, the hall being well filled when Chairman Oatway called the meeting to order. He gave a short synopsis of the issues before the electors in the present election. Dr Oatway was followed by Messrs Rae and McLaughlin, Edmonton speakers.

The candidate, Mr Stewart, gave a ninety minute speech, which proved to be particularly interesting, and was listened to intently by all present. He dealt with the immigration problem, and explained why he was opposed, several years ago, to the whole sale importation of migrants when this had been demanded by the boards of trade in the large cities in the East. He touched on the tariff question, and proved how the tariff policy of the King Government had given employment to an even greater number than had ever formerly been engaged in the automobile, farming implement, and kindred industries. He stated the four major industries of Canada at the present time were: Agriculture, Mining, Lumbering, and the Fisheries, and claimed that the government of which he had been a member had at all times dealt with these industries in a fair and equitable manner. The speaker stated that the Liberal form of government was in the best interests of residents in all parts of the Dominion.

Mr Stewart publicly thanked the committee which had made the arrangements for his local meetings, and thanked its Chairman (Dr Oatway) for the attention and courtesy shown him during his stay in this district.

As Western Programme

On September 14, through the medium of the ballot box, the electors of Canada will decide one of the most important issues of the day. They will determine several vitally important matters. In the first place they will make choice of the man or woman in whom they repose confidence as their constituency representative in the next House of Commons. In only a few isolated cases to candidates seeking the suffrages of the electors stand merely as exponents of their own personal views and policies. In the vast majority of cases they likewise represent a political party or group, and their election means approval of the leaders, the principles and the policies of that party or group. Thus the individual voter in marking his or her ballot not only makes selection of the person they desire to represent them in Parliament for the next five years, but they express their opinion as to whom should head the Government during that period, and render their verdict as to the policies which should prevail in dealing with the major questions now before the country.

Parliament exists in order that in matters of government the will of the people may be made to prevail. It is through the choice of members of the House of Commons representative of the views of a majority of individual voters that the popular will is made known, and finds expression. Thus, where a majority of the voters in any constituency in Canada believe that their best interests will be served and advanced by a high protective tariff, they will naturally vote for a candidate who himself believes in that policy and is standing in support of the party which is pledged to such a policy. It is right and proper that they do so, nor is there anything sectional, nor disloyal to Canada in so voting. As free electors they are recording their will in like manner the people of a constituency who do not believe that tariff protection will benefit them, but that it is in the best interests of the Dominion as a whole, will support that candidate and party whose policy favors only a moderate tariff consistent with the revenue and other requirements of the country and who favor reductions when and wherever possible. This is not sectional or un-Canadian to the west of Canada, but is again a right and proper expression of the people's will. Protectionist voters are voting for themselves and what they consider best for Canada; equally so, low tariff electors are voting for what they regard as in the national interests.

It is only so that the people will of all Canadians can be ascertained and find expression in Parliament. When the representatives thus chosen assemble in Parliament all views will be presented and the majority must prevail, although in the interests of all there must be compromise effected. This being the case it is of the utmost importance that voters think straight, see clearly, and vote strongly for those men, that party, and those principles and policies best calculated to give expression in Parliament and in legislation to a programme designed to advance the real and permanent interests of their constituencies.

Now there are many who think that Western people whether Liberals, Conservatives, Progressives, or Laborites, know this country needs in order to bring about development, increased population, and permanent prosperity. There may be some few in the ranks of each of these groups who hold contrary opinions, but, in general, Western people are united, regardless of party affiliations, in believing:

1. That the policy of the Dominion should be completed and put into operation with the least possible delay.
2. That a well considered system of Rural Credits should be inaugurated in order to provide for the needs of the agriculturists of the West.
3. That Canada should come into line with Great Britain and other advanced countries and provide pensions for the old and infirm who, having done their share in building up the Dominion, yet failed to accumulate a competence for their declining years.
4. That a sound and vigorous immigration policy and administration should be maintained, and to that end, that policies should be put into effect designed to make settlement of Western lands attractive by making the profession of agriculture a profitable one.
5. That, in order to make farming more profitable than hitherto, it is essential that transportation charges be kept as low as possible consistent with the maintenance of our transportation systems; and that, in this connection, the Crow's Nest Pass statutory rates be maintained.
6. That lands sold to soldier settlers be re-valued and justice done these men and their families. Western people, who are personally informed regarding the hardships under which many of these settlers now labor, have no two opinions regarding this.
7. That, inasmuch as it is impossible to protect all industry in Canada by means of the tariff, and notably so in the case of agricultural products and livestock, the general tariff of the Dominion should be made as low as possible; advantage taken of every opportunity for making favorable trade arrangements with any and all countries, and tariff preferences further extended to all parts of the Empire.
8. That the Government and Parliament of Canada encourage and seek to develop co-operative undertakings in every legitimate way.

The above outlines a Western Programme with which an overwhelming majority of the people of Western Canada will be found in agreement. They would like full effect given to it. It is the duty, therefore, of each individual elector in the West to honestly examine the past record and present policies of the contending parties and candidates in the election culminating on September 14 and go to the polls and mark their ballot accordingly.

Western voters in favor of the Hudson Bay Railway must decide whether they consider the completion of the road will be most aggressively carried on under Charles A. Dunning, of Regina, or W. A. Black, of Halifax. Electors in favor of, and decide whether the Rural Credits Bill, the revaluation of soldier settlers' lands, the provision of Old Age Pensions, all passed by the last Parliament under Mackenzie King, but which failed of assent before dissolution, are more likely of attainment under a King or a Meighen Government.

Western electors in favor of Crow's Nest Pass rates must give consideration to the fact that the Crow's Nest Pass lower freight rates were provided for under a Liberal Government; that they were abrogated by a Conservative Government; that they were restored by a Liberal Government; that Mr. Meighen in this campaign is denouncing all statutory freight rates, and has stated that the railways need the money which they are deprived through the Crow's Nest Pass agreement. Do the C.P.R. shareholders or the C.N.R. with its steadily rising revenues, need this money more than do the farmers of the West?

Canada needs stable government. Mr. Meighen is appealing for support on the ground that he will provide stable government. Either he or Mr. King will be Premier after September 14, but neither Mr. Meighen nor Mr. King can guarantee stable government. The voters alone can determine that by giving one party or the other a working majority.

Says Debts Prevent Wars

Cancellation Will Bring Strife Opinion of U. S. Senator

"If America were to cancel war debts, Europe would be almost immediately embroiled in war," States Senator Bernard Dwinne, New-York, said just before sailing from England for home.

"England knows this," he continued, "and that is why, with her traditional far-sightedness she is not only settling an example to other nations by settling her own debts, but is advocating adjustment of accounts throughout Europe. Saddled with debts as they are, European countries now have war, and hard work is an excellent stabilizer. The country which is paying off financial obligations is not in a position to undertake another war, but is forced to re-establish economic rather than military strength."

TRIALS OF INDIGESTION

Errors About This Trouble Into Which People Fall

Many people so far misunderstand the digestive system as to treat it like a machine, and it is not a machine, it is a living organism, it works sublimely, then, irritating it into work again by the use of purgatives. The stomach needs help at all times, but a study of the process of digestion will show that purgatives, as commonly taken, are seldom necessary and often harmful.

To safeguard your digestion the diet must be controlled. Over-eating is always harmful, but one must assimilate enough food to supply the needs of the blood. Remember, the blood carries nourishment to all parts of the body and find fuel for its energy. Hence when the blood becomes weak and fails to do its work, indigestion arises. Therefore the sure remedy for indigestion is to build up the blood. If you suffer from any form of indigestion choose your diet carefully and take wholesome nourishment. Above all, start building up your blood by taking a course of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Then under the influence of the new blood supply, your digestive system will respond naturally, your appetite improve and your food will do you good. So begin to improve your digestion by starting to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills now.

You can get these pills from your druggist or by mail at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Aeroplane Travel Not Dangerous

Very Few Accidents Happen to Passengers Says Report

Travelling by aeroplane apparently is not nearly as dangerous as is commonly thought. The annual report of Civil Aviation states that since 1919 air transport flying has amounted to 1,565,000 miles and there have been only four accidents causing death of passengers.

During the year ended March, there were only four accidents and not one had serious consequences beyond damage to aircraft.

Passengers in British machines increased from 13,478 in 1924 to 14,675. Flying for hire or "joy-ride" flying showed a big increase, the number of passengers in this branch of aviation was 67,529, the largest on record.

Twenty-one Thousand Canadians Return From U. S. In Three Months

Figures announced by the department of immigration and colonization showed that in the first quarter of the fiscal year, the months of April, May and June, 21,091 Canadians were reported as returning from the United States after having entered that country with the intention of remaining there permanently. These now declare their intention of permanently residing in Canada. The number returning in June was 6,084.

Superiority Of Canadian Bred Fowl Shown In Competition With Southern Reared Birds

It is anticipated that the World's Poultry Congress to be held at Ottawa in the summer of 1927 will bring between 5,000 and 6,000 delegates (including friends, probably 10,000 people all told) to Ottawa from all parts of the world. These persons will tour the country in all directions. "Thus it will be seen that the no longer lovely Canadian hen not only adds greatly to the annual production of the nation, but is also making known the extent of Canada's resources in the different countries of the world," says P. C. Elford, Dominion poultry husbandman. In an article showing that Canada leads the world in many phases of the poultry industry.

Superiority of the Canadian bred and raised domestic fowl, as demonstrated in competition with birds from more southerly countries and in results of egg-laying competitions in fourteen countries, is in line with the general tendency shown by the more northerly developed strains of plants and animals to excel in vitality and quality their southern prototypes, Mr. Elford remarks. He also points out that though the hen is a native of hot countries, the turkey, partridge, prairie chicken, the duck and the famous Canada goose are indigenous to this country. The two latter are, of course, migratory, but when domesticated, thrive exceedingly well here the year round.

Both Federal and Provincial Governments in Canada have done much to encourage poultry raising in the Dominion. Poultry work is carried on at the Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa, and at 25 branch farms and at substations. Pedigree breeding is conducted at all the farms, egg-laying competitions are organized by the poultry division of the experimental farm, and there has been established the Canadian Record of Performance and Registration of Poultry, all of which develop heavy laying strains and increase production of the whole country.

As a result of this combination of ideal climate and concentrated effort to increase and improve the poultry population, the actual number of fowls on farms and poultry plants in Canada has increased threefold in a quarter of a century, and the estimated egg production has increased considerably since 1921.

Wage War On Weeds

Estimated That Saskatchewan Farmers Will Lose $30,000,000 This Year From Weeds

Weeds will cost the farmers of Saskatchewan more than $30,000,000 this year, according to M. P. Tullis, field crops commissioner for the Saskatchewan Government.

Mr. Tullis says that weeds throughout the province have been exceptionally bad this year, the mustard, wild oats and sow thistle having been most troublesome.

The field crops branch is making a strong effort to arouse public opinion in the agricultural districts to the end of putting up a strenuous fight against the ever-growing weed pest. To save the grain of Saskatchewan, says Mr. Tullis, it is imperative that "a province-wide movement for clean farms be started, which will mean the ultimate saving of hundreds of millions of dollars to the farmers of Saskatchewan."

While it may be of small comfort to the farmers of this province, the field crops commissioner says that weeds are worse across the border in the Northern United States, where, in some cases, weed legislation has never been enforced, with the result that the average dockage grade is more than five times the dockage on the Saskatchewan product.

The Foggiest Place

It was not Mr. Vanderbilt Jr., who told us that he had been disappointed in the statement that London was the foggiest place in the world. "It was so foggy."—The New Yorker.

Reindeer In Barren Lands

Experiment Conducted By Hudson's Bay Company Not Yet Successful
The Hudson's Bay Company experiment, made at the suggestion of Vilhjalmur Stefansson, the explorer, to introduce reindeer in the northern barren lands of Canada with the idea of building up an important meat industry, has failed.

This admission is made officially by the Hudson's Bay Company in a report recently made public by Charles V. Sate, governor of the company.

The experiment has been a failure, but it will be continued, according to Mr. Sate, who has hopes of ultimate success. "While the close of the war," he stated, "we realized that progress demanded a closer investigation of our opportunities and we decided to institute a development board. Just about the same time we were approached by Stefansson with a project for introduction of reindeer to Barren Land along the lines which had been so successful in Alaska. The project was one which had the active support of the Canadian Government and which we felt sure should be undertaken by our department in the interests of Canada."

"I regret to say that so far the venture has been a failure, but in this, as in other things, failure taken in the right way is but a step towards success, and we do not intend to abandon the experiment until we have proved to our own satisfaction and, if possible, to the satisfaction of the Canadian Government, that success is not attainable."

Canadians Leave

Returning to Their Homes Where Wages Are as High as in Maine

According to reports received here from the northeastern part of the state, Canadians who have been employed in lumber and railroad operations are leaving for their homes where it is claimed they can get as high wages as they have been receiving in Maine. So great is the exodus that it is feared that industrial production in that section of the state will be hampered.

It is claimed that competition for labor is just as strong on the Canadian side of the boundary as it is in Maine—Lewiston, Maine, Daily Sun, August 10.

B.C. Potatoes For California

Arrangements for the export of large quantities of British Columbia seed potatoes to California are being made this year by a potato grower of that state. The British Columbia potatoes are desired in California for seed purposes because they introduce new strength into the southern strain. Experiments were made with Canadian-grown seed last year in California and growers were well satisfied with the results.

The only exercise many people get is in jumping to conclusions.

Crate Feeding Poultry

Best Method to Follow For High-Class Trade

Table poultry intended for high-class trade should be properly fleshed before being marketed. Feeding not only increases the weight of the fowl, it also greatly improves the quality. This results in a much better price per pound being secured. It is best accomplished by crate-feeding for from two to four weeks, depending on the condition of the birds.

There is a bulletin on the preparing of poultry produced for market distributed by the Publications Branch, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, which tells in detail how to make crates and how to feed and care for the birds while in them. According to the bulletin, medium-sized birds belonging to the general purpose breeds, give the best results in the crates. The birds should be of strong constitution and five months old or over.

When the birds are first put in the crate they should be fed lightly for several days after that, as much feed as they will take twice a day should be given. The use of sour milk in crate feeding is indispensable where high quality is the object. The milk is mixed with finely ground grain in about the proportion of three pounds milk to two of grain, and all the birds will eat, should be given to them twice a day. Any mash left over should be removed immediately. Corn, oats, barley and buckwheat are the grains generally used in the mash, and they should always be finely ground. A good mixture consists of equal parts of corn, oats and buckwheat. Buckwheat screenings, a by-product from the elevators, gives excellent results and is usually cheap. It is fed with sour milk in the usual manner. Whole grain must never be given.

Age Of Queens In Brood Production

Colonies Wintered In The Cellar And Outside Packing Cases

The project started by the bee division of the Dominion experimental farms in 1924 to determine the average daily egg production of young versus old queens was continued in 1925. Two of the colonies used were wintered in the cellar, one with a queen in her first year and the other with a queen in the second year. Two other colonies were wintered outside in packing cases queened in a similar way. Counts were taken every seven days from May 16 to July 25. Very full statistical tables in the report of the Dominion apiarist for last year give the results in 1924 and 1925. These show that in both years the youngest queens gave in the outdoor colonies the highest egg production during the earlier part of the year when, as suggested by the report, which can be had at no cost at addressing the Publications Branch, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, high brood production is of vital importance, especially in localities where the main flow comes early, such as from Alaska clover. This condition, however, the reports show, was reversed in the colonies wintered in the cellar.

Making the Farm Home a More Desirable Place To Live In By Beautifying Its Surroundings

May Apply For Copyright

Canadian Cattle Club Think Jersey Products Need Protection

The Canadian Cattle Club is seriously considering the copyrighting of the name "Jersey" when used in connection with any dairy products. The club has been at a great deal of trouble and expense to secure a qualified Jersey article and has succeeded so far that many consumers of dairy products are willing to pay practically double for the Jersey article what they are willing to pay for any other sort of milk. The result is that a great many "shrewd" people are trading on the name Jersey. If their cow is a grade several removes from the pure-bred strain, they will sell their milk as Jersey milk and the public are misled. The result is that much milk low in real Jersey quality is palmed off on the unsuspecting consumers. Inevitably the producers of really qualified Jersey milk are the sufferers. The aim of the Jersey men is to see that only producers of the really qualified Jersey article shall be allowed to use the name "Jersey." That is, no one shall be allowed to use the name until his herd has been inspected by a duly qualified examiner satisfactory to the club and passed upon as satisfactory not only to the club, but to the consumers. This is a significant move and one that deserves earnest consideration.

Alfalfa and Rye or Brome Grass

The Most Economical and Profitable For a Good Hay Mixture

It being evident that alfalfa and western rye grass provide a good hay mixture as the superintendent of the Indian Head, Sask. Dominion experimental farm (W. H. Gibson) says in his last report, the question naturally arises what is the most economical and profitable of these to sow. A table giving the results from thirteen farms presented in the report indicates that a rate of six pounds of alfalfa and eight pounds of rye grass per acre (or even four and eight) is satisfactory.

A table is also given in the report of the results of substituting western rye grass with brome grass in a mixture with alfalfa. In general, the results are similar, but says Mr. Gibson, after the first crop there is an increasing tendency of the brome to choke out the alfalfa. He therefore recommends the combination of alfalfa and western rye.

How's That

The installment salesman was visiting the railroad shops. "This man you fellows call 'Slim' Johnson wants a suit of clothes on time payments. Is he honest?"

"Mister," answered the foreman, "Slim is one of the squarest men in the roadhouse."

"What would you do with a million dollars?"

"Buy a decent watch. I'm always late to work."

It is just as important to make home grounds beautiful and attractive as it is to comb one's hair and wear clothes which are becoming. Abraham Lincoln said: "I like to see a man proud of the place in which he lives. I like to see a man live in it so that his place is proud of him." This implies that both the place and the persons who occupy it should be well kept and orderly. Flowers, shrubs and trees planted about the home and driveways give the farmstead a dress which makes it inviting and a better place to live. A person must do these things if he is to be proud of the place in which he lives.

Seldom can a farmstead be found in the timber sections that is wholly without trees and flowers are very common. There is opportunity to plant more shrubs which give a finish to the home grounds which is seldom obtained by flowers and trees alone. The cost of this improvement is small. It takes a little time to plant and care for the shrubs and some planning to arrange them attractively. Most any nursery can give instructions on how to make simple plantings, which is all that is required on most farms. Elaborate landscape gardening with shrubs and trees has an appeal to our finer senses, which the buildings of the farm alone cannot arouse. We have seen trees on farmsteads worth more than the buildings. They are not only valuable as a protection against heat and cold, wind and storm; and history and fond memories often surround them. It is none too early to plan what should be done next spring to make the home grounds more attractive through planting more trees, shrubs and flowers.—Free Press.

Fattening Young Ducks

Should Be Placed In Feeding Pens To Prepare For Market

Young ducks when properly treated and fed should be ready for market when from eight to ten weeks old. After being allowed the freedom of a considerable range up to six or seven weeks of age, it is recommended by the Dominion poultry husbandman that those intended to be marketed should be placed in feeding pens without range or water to swim in and fed three times a day. The ducklings will by this time have developed vigorous digestive abilities to take care of the large quantities of food that their appetites crave. Not being able to run or swim off the flesh they make, the gains will be rapid from day to day and the duck put on will be tender and of excellent flavor. The food recommended in the bulletin "Poultry Feeds and Feeding," distributed by the Publications Branch of the Department of Agriculture at Ottawa, may consist of one part bran, two parts shorts, three parts ground corn, ten per cent. beef scrap, and about five per cent. of sand. These ingredients should be mixed together along with bulky green food such as chopped up clover leaves, lettuce or vegetable tops. This mixture is moistened to a crumbly state with milk, and an abundance of drinking water is kept before the flock at feeding time. Three or four weeks of this feeding should make the birds a desirable market product that sells for a good price. If kept much beyond this age the birds commence to throw out another crop of feathers, which not only requires considerable food for their growth, but gives the carcass which is plucked a less attractive appearance.

Hamilton, Ontario.—"I have taken several bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I cannot speak too highly of it as I was at the Change of Life and was all run-down and had no appetite. I was very weak and sick, and the pains in my back were so bad that I could hardly move."

times and thought I did not care if I lived or died. I was very nervous, too, and did not go out very much. A friend advised me to try a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, so I did. The Country And Its Consuming Population

By C. W. Peterson

With comparatively few exceptions, the country towns of Canada have been going down hill or have barely held their own during recent years. Various causes have been ascribed to this disturbing phenomenon chiefly improved highways and the general use by farmers of automobiles, which enable them periodically to do their trading, and, incidentally, indulge in recreation, in the cities, thus cutting off an enormous volume of farm labor employed and, consequently, the consuming population tributary to the country towns. Rural mail delivery has largely cut out the visit to the post office and to forth.

But new possibilities are opening up for the smaller centres. It is a fundamental fact that organized labor passes through crises and automatically almost, out of their own volition. Every spell of depression in human affairs is just the winter period which precedes the dawn of spring. While old kinds of business have disappeared, new kinds of business have appeared in the towns. There are the sales agencies for automobiles and trucks. Every town has them. The man in charge is related also to thousands of others like him in a wonderful system of salesmanship in a line which was absolutely unknown in the towns twenty years ago. Farm mechanization has also led to larger and better implement houses, tractor agencies and fitting stations.

The towns are also organized better than they used to be, to ship out their products. Here's a place of fourteen hundred people, where they have established a big poultry-and-egg-shipping centre. A modern building, properly arranged and ventilated, with well-equipped office rooms, a good warehouse, ample side track from the main line of the railroad. Carloads of poultry shipping to the cities. Can you beat it? Who says that the town is not coming back?

The farmers are shipping the cream out from the towns, through local agencies, and getting cream checks for it every week—real cash money from the outside world—cash the checks at the local banks and spending a lot of the money with the local merchants.

It's true there was a time when city high schools lured the young people away from the towns. But during the past decade the towns have erected their own high school buildings. As one travels across Canada, he is impressed with the fact that towns everywhere have gone into the high school business. The local young folks are living at home and going to school. That is making a new social life in the town, such as was not known previously.

From the cities they are doing some things that are helping the towns to return. Certain railroad companies are moving their repair shops from big cities out to small division points. It saves overhead cost, minimizes the risk of labor troubles, and secures service stations for repair work.

In the east, there's a notable tendency to scatter industrial plants. This has become so marked that an organization in the United States has recently made surveys and published the results, of the influence of these industries upon the rural areas through which they have been scattered. In a journal published for factory executives they recently appeared a series of articles entitled "Why We Moved to the Country." They told the personal experiences and impressions of managers who had taken their industries out of the city centres into the small towns. At any rate, the towns are returning, and the prophets that have been croaking disaster are already getting old and senile.

But while the close observer is bound to conclude that a new era has come for the country towns, we cannot overlook the palpable fact that the new development that awaits the rural centre is going to be slow unless steps are made towards augmenting Canada's almost stationary population through a vigorous immigration policy which would benefit town and country alike. Every citizen is interested in filling up our vacant agricultural spaces throughout the length and breadth of this enormous country in order that we may approach a proper balance between rural and urban population which is at present sadly out of proportion.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

THE TENT OF MEETING

Golden Text: Jehovah spake unto Moses face to face, as a man speaketh unto his friend. Exodus 33:11.

Lesson: Exodus 33.

Devotional Reading: Psalm 51-7.

Explanations and Comments

The Place and Purpose of the Tent of Meeting. Verses 7-11.—These verses describe the customary way in which Moses performed, his high priestly service during the wilderness years, before the tabernacle was erected. At every new encampment Moses "used to take the tent," a special tent which he called the tent of meeting, and have it set up by itself, far from the camp. Similarly, after the settlement in Canaan, the local sanctuaries were beyond the towns and villages. This tent was especially sacred because in it Moses as priest obtained answers from God for any inquirer who came there with questions. When his duties were over, Moses returned to the camp, but the tent was constantly visited by his attendant, a young man named Joshua, verse 11.

When Moses started for the tent, the cry of all the people followed him until he entered it. When he had tarried on Mount Sinai, the people had learned to Aaron that "as for the tent of meeting, it is the place where Moses and Aaron stand before the Lord." So the people knew that the tent of meeting was the place where the divine presence, descended and hovered about the door of the tent, each man of his own tent would tie up and worship. And Jehovah spake with Moses.

TARIFF BOARD MAKE INSPECTION OF STEEL MILLS

Ottawa.—Meetings of the Dominion tariff advisory board have been resumed. Right Hon. George F. Grahame, who had just returned from Europe, met in private session with Commissioners Alfred Lambert and D. G. MacKenzie. The two latter reported on the result of their inspection of the steel mills of Canada.

Messrs. Lambert and MacKenzie, accompanied by Dr. A. W. G. Wilson, chief of the mineral resources division of the federal department of mines, spent nearly three weeks in investigating conditions surrounding the manufacture of steel and iron in the Dominion. They travelled from Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., to Sydney, N.S. They visited the properties of the Algoma Steel Corporation at the Sault, the Dominion Alloy Steel Company, Sarnia, the proposed steel plant at Ojibway, near Windsor, Ont., the Steel Company of Canada, Hamilton, and the various mills and plants of the British Empire Steel Corporation at Sydney and New Glasgow, N.S. They reported that they had been treated with great consideration everywhere and were given the freedom of the plants. No further comment was contained in the statement given out after the meeting.

Some 24 applications in respect of the customs tariff have been placed before the tariff board to date, Mr. Grahame stated.

"A few of these have been disposed of," he added, "several are about to be reported on and all are in some stage of investigation by the board and its experts."

The Struggle In Mexico

Indefinite Continuation of Stalemate in Religious Situation

Mexico City.—The Episcopate has issued a written statement declaring that the government has sent a circular to "all government employees and school teachers requiring a statement as to whether they belong to the League of the Defence of Religious Liberty or the Knights of Columbus, or whether they are loyal to the government and support the government's religious policy."

The Episcopate declares that it does not recognize the government's right "thus to violate religious liberty."

The business men of Mexico, with undisguised gloom, are settling down with whatever philosophy and resignation they can muster to what seems to be an indefinite continuation of the stalemate in the religious situation. There is still hope that somehow a solution may be found, but so far as tangible facts are concerned nothing has occurred of late to substantiate that hope. If anything, the government and Episcopate both seem to be adopting a somewhat stiffer attitude.

Missing Air Pilot Returns

Manitoba Fire Fighter Delayed by Heavy Smoke Clouds

Cormorant Lake, Man.—Missing from the air base here for more than a week, Flight Lieut. Mawdsley of the Royal Canadian Air Force, has returned to Cormorant Lake safely.

Aiding in the fighting of forest fires north of here, Lieut. Mawdsley was forced to make a landing owing to heavy smoke clouds from the fires. He was compelled to wait until the atmosphere cleared before returning to his station here. Lieut. Stevenson, who started out to search for the missing aviator, returned with Lieut. Mawdsley.

Criticizes The Government

King Says Government Spending Million Dollars a Day Without Authorization

Saint John, N.B.—The Melghen Government was providing itself with spending money at the rate of $1,000,000 a day by governor-general's warrants, declared Mr. Mackenzie King at the second meeting of his campaign in the Maritime Provinces.

Mr. King drew attention to the fact that the present government was continuing in office and administering the affairs of the country under governor-general's warrants, thereby spending public money without parliamentary supervision or authorization by parliament. Yet parliament had declined to vote Mr. Melghen's Government any supply and had declared by resolution (though its members were holding office illegally and that the government had no right to exist).

"The total amount which has been taken from the treasury under governor-general's warrants up to the beginning of the present week—August 22—is over $4,000,000. In other words, Mr. Melghen's Government has been providing themselves with spending money at the rate of over $1,000,000 a day, though parliament has expressly declared they are not entitled to a single dollar. There is no parallel in British history or so great usurpation of office and power," said Mr. King.

"A further violation of office and power, was the approval of a $2,500,000 contract for a Canadian National Railway hotel in Vancouver, awarded without the calling of tenders and during an election."

Wrong Meaning Taken

Bishop of London Comments on Criticism By Westminster Gazette

Hespler, Ont.—"They have taken a wrong meaning from my words," the Bishop of London, Right Rev. A. F. Winnington-Ingram said in commenting on criticism by The Westminster Gazette on his address in Toronto when he was reported as saying: "Can we expect the same loyalty to British ideals from Gallians, Poles and Goshawks who else, who are populating Canada, and who do not know a word of English?"

He meant, the bishop explained, that if Canada is to be kept British, there must be a majority of English people coming to the Dominion as immigrants. "That was only reasonable. 'As for the French-Canadians,' he continued, 'I wish you would mention the fact that at Ottawa I paid a special tribute to the patient, loyal and hard-working French pioneers, who helped to lay the foundation of this country.'"

"The Westminster Gazette is a very radical paper, anyway," the bishop said. "I think they are just trying to make a bit of a splash, but have nothing against the foreigners, but I hope that the majority of immigrants will continue to be British."

Minority Groups Call Meeting At Geneva

Will Deal With Protection of Language and Religion

Geneva.—Apparently dissatisfied with the way the League of Nations handles the problems of minorities, a congress of national groups who form a minority under the flags of the European nations has been convoked at Geneva to treat questions of common interest and seek protection of language, race and religion.

The groups represented are those resident in 13 countries. They include Germans in the Italian Tyrol; Russians, Jews and Germans in Poland; Poles and Danes in Germany; Hungarians, Poles and Germans in Rumania; Poles, Germans and Jews in Czechoslovakia; Germans in Hungary; and Catalonians in Spain. Germans predominate.

Is Suing Eck-Kaiser

Berlin.—Former Kaiser Wilhelm is being sued in a Dresden court by Catherine Muller, who claims he refused to pay her fee for curing his stropion of stropion. She says the cured Prince Shounen Carolus, the second son of the former Kaiser's present wife, of suffering in four months. The imperial stropion case will be heard in the latter part of September.

COARSE GRAIN POOL HAS MADE FINAL PAYMENT

Regina.—Cheques totalling over $1,000,000 have been placed in the mails by the Saskatchewan Coarse Grain Pool, addressed to its Saskatchewan and Manitoba members, representing the final payment on the 1925-26 crop, the first crop handled since the pool was organized.

The cost of operating the pool for the first year is a shade under half a cent, or, to be exact, $0.049 per bushel, while the carrying charges were $0.0081 per bushel or a little better than three-fourths of a cent. Last year in the operation of the wheat pool the carrying charges were handled by the Central Selling Agency, whereas this year these charges are being taken care of by the provincial pools in both the wheat and coarse grain pools.

The gross amount of the final payment of the coarse grain pool crop for 1925-26 was approximately $1,200,000 and from this amount has been deducted the charges of one per cent. for commercial reserves and the elevator reserves of one cent a bushel for oats, 1½ cents for barley and rye and three cents for flax.

The acreage signed up to the coarse grain pools in Saskatchewan for the first crop year's operations follows: Oats, 1,547,575 acres; barley, 258,506 acres; flax, 351,384 acres; rye, 97,435 acres. The total membership in the coarse grain pool to date is 35,386 or a little less than 50 per cent. of the wheat pool membership in this province.

Win Prizes In England

Canadian Cattle Compete Successfully With Best In Britain

Ottawa.—The federal department of agriculture has been notified that two Canadian steers recently carried off the first prize for the best pair not exceeding 14 hundredweight and first and second prizes for the best butcher's beast on exhibit in the Aldborough and Borough Bridge agricultural show in Great Britain.

The department was advised that these successes were achieved over a very excellent showing of English and Scottish entries. This is considered of more than usual importance as indicating that the store cattle shipped from Canada to Britain and finished off here, can compete with the best bred in that country.

Wants Debts Settled

Brussels.—The delay of the French Government in rallying the London and Washington debt accords may have an unfavorable reaction not only on the French franc but also on the Belgian franc. It is feared in financial and governmental circles in Brussels.

House of Lords Leader Here

Meighen Issues Challenge

Maintains That Present Government Is Legally Constituted

Moose Jaw.—Premier Meighen issued a challenge to Mr. Mackenzie King. He challenged Mr. King to take any of the orders-in-council issued by the Melghen Government to the courts and test their validity on the point whether the government was a government or not.

Mr. Meighen, making his challenge, described the formation of his temporary ministry. "There is nothing I am not prepared to forfeit," Mr. Meighen declared, "if they can get any court in Canada to declare that we are not a legally constituted government."

His government was formed on a temporary basis just to finish the session, Mr. Meighen explained. Mr. Mackenzie King took the ground—Mr. Meighen proceeded—that because our ministers were not sworn as acting ministers the whole government was illegal.

My first observation is this: "If I were a taxpayer, I would rather have a minister not sworn who did his duty than a sworn minister who did not do his duty. There are two oaths which a minister with portfolio must take: (1) His oath as a party councillor, and (2) his oath as a minister."

"There is only one oath an acting minister must take. Every minister in that temporary government took his oath as a party councillor, but no acting minister ever before took the oath as such in the history of Canada. Nor is there any law or any custom to call upon a man to take an oath as acting minister."

Northern Grown Flowers

Ship Cut Flowers From Alaska to Compete in Exhibition at Toronto

Edmonton.—An unusual shipment passed through Edmonton recently. The parcel contained 132 pounds of cut flowers grown in Juneau, Alaska, and destined for the Toronto exhibition, where they will be placed on display.

Special attention was paid to the shipment of the blooms. Wrapped in a pasteboard box covered with brown wrapping paper, the flowers rested beneath a bag of cracked ice, which kept them cool. At intervals along the route, a messenger replaced this ice so that the flowers might be fresh on arrival.

Will Tax Women

Vernon, B.C.—The convention of the United of British Columbia Municipalities approved an amendment to the Poll Tax Act making all women wage earners liable to the tax as well as men.

Claimant To Nobility Hurt

Ottawa.—William Legge, 85, who claimed to be the direct descendant of an English lord, was fatally injured when struck by a street car here.

DOUCET THOUGHT HIS INFORMANT WAS RELIABLE

Halifax.—A. J. Doucet, former Conservative member of parliament for Kent, N.B., told Sir Francis Lemieux at the reopening of the customs probe here just what he had said from the public platform in regard to the cruise of the Margaret and why he had said it.

He had made his reference to the cruise of the Margaret in two speeches at St. John and Bridgewater when accompanying Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, premier, on his Maritime Province tour. He said:

"As far as I can remember, I said in St. John that the Margaret was taken off her course to Three Rivers, where she took Hon. Jacques Bureau and a party of eight on board. That she then called at Quebec and there took Hon. Ernest Lapointe on board," he said. "Mr. Doucet informed the commissioner that the vessel had visited the Magdalen Islands and other points, being away for a period of six weeks, during which time the coast which she should have been patrolling were unprotected."

He had received his information from a person whom he thought should have been in possession of absolutely reliable information on the matter, said Mr. Doucet.

At this point, R. L. Calder, K.C., commissioner, counsel intervened, "I may say in explanation of Mr. Doucet that when I heard the name of this informant, if this same informant had been named by me by the same informant, I would have considered it a proper matter for investigation, and that it is not unlikely that a lay mind, which jumps at conclusions a little more quickly than a legal mind, might be misled," he said.

South Africa

Favors Secession

Not Inconsistent With Oath of Allegiance Says Minister of Mines

Johannesburg, South Africa.—Hon. F. W. Beyers, minister of mines and industries, replying to a correspondent who asked how, in view of his oath of office as a minister of the crown, he could advocate secession, declared that the right of secession had been admitted for the past 80 or 90 years by prominent British ministers and others. "It therefore followed," he said, "that for the very reason that a person was a British subject he was entitled to demand the recognition of any dominion, to make proposals for putting absolute equality with the United Kingdom into practice and even to advocate secession."

The oath of allegiance, Mr. Beyers contended, could not derogate from constitutional rights and was, therefore, not inconsistent with the exercise of such rights.

Priceless Objects Taken From Theatrical Museum in Milan

Milan.—A sword given by Napoleon to the opera singer, Gulietta Pasta, and other precious relics have been stolen from the theatrical museum adjoining the Scala Opera House, which contains priceless objects and documents referring to ancient and modern dramatic art. The thief took the Napoleon's sword, which was set with pearls and a medal which once belonged to the celebrated Italian, Count Vittorio Alfieri, together with a golden crown owned by the famous dancer, Marchioness, and a historic collar and bracelet.

Liner and Planes in 3000-mile Dash to Effect "Scoop"

1. The Champion getting geared up before entering the English Channel. 2. Lowering the photographs to the waiting sea-planes. 3. Canadian sea plane which flew to Rimouski. 4. The Canadian Pacific liner "Empress of Scotland".

Gertrude Ederle's recent victory over the English Channel, wrote an epic into the already brilliant aquatic records of America. And while this youthful swimmer, who broke all existing records in her Channel swim, was being lionized in Europe for her victory, a sequel to this event was taking place in America which will go down on the romantic pages of journalism as one of the biggest "scoops" in newspaper enterprises.

Using a four-plane relay in co-operation with the Canadian Pacific steamer the Empress of Scotland, representatives of the New York News, landed the actual photographs of the great Channel swim in their offices in New York fully twenty-four hours before other prints could possibly arrive.

As the gangplank of the Empress of Scotland was being raised at Southampton, a messenger dashed up to the ship and placed a bundle of prints in the care of a passenger. Even the Commander of the ship was ignorant of their value until a radio message flashed in giving the instructions for the disposal of the prints. A seaplane would pick them up near Anticosti Island. True to the arrangements the seaplanes was sighted a few miles from the island near English Bay, and Commander Latta gave instructions to an officer to wrap the photographs in a waterproof proof and lower them over the side of the ship. The seaplane circled the ship and alighted. In a few minutes the package was picked up but the sea had become so choppy that it took the plane several hours to taxi to the lee of the island before it could rise. Finally taking to flight it flew straight to Rimouski where the prints were divided and placed on board two waiting land planes. These two planes hopped off for New York and were hopeful of reaching New York for the Saturday edition of the News, but heavy fogs descended and killed all hopes. One of the planes was forced down at St. Etienne and success was up to the other plane. After flying in the fog almost to Montreal, it turned south and landed at Plattsburgh and met another plane at the parade grounds there. Here the other plane took the pictures and began the last leg of the perilous flight to New York. Flying at 112 miles an hour through three electric storms and one of the heaviest fogs ever encountered by the flyers the plane landed at the West Side Park, Jersey City. A little over three hours after the final dash was begun the pictures were delivered at the offices of the News in New York 24 hours ahead of picture en route via New York.

Change of Name.

After forty-four years of operation during which it has grown up with the country and contributed in no small way to Canadian development the Dominion Express Company will no longer be known by that name. After Sept. 1st next that great transportation agency will be known as the Canadian Pacific Express Co. In all parts of Canada and the United States and throughout the civilized world signs on the windows of the many hundreds of branch offices will be changed, and thus will be forged a still closer link with the great parent company whose railroads, steamships and hotels are known around the world.

To mark the change of name the Company has issued an attractive little booklet giving a short history of its career and a synopsis of its present widespread activities. The Dominion Express Co. was incorporated in 1873, but it was in 1882 that Mr. Van Horne, then Pres. of the C.P.R., took it over as an operating part of the Canadian Pacific Co. Mr. G. A. Kirkpatrick, later Sir Geo. Kirkpatrick, Lieut. Gov. of Ontario, was its president, and Mr. W. S. Stott, a young but thoroughly experienced express man, became its Supt. Mr. Stott is today Pres. and for many years has guided its fortunes in that capacity. For some years he and his assistants had a hard and uphill fight. They not only moved traffic but helped create it by finding Canadian and foreign markets for Canadian products and by scientific rate making encouraging the farmer, fruit grower and others whose markets were far away. The growth of the company over these many years is an interesting story. The Company is daily entrusted with hundreds of millions of dollars in goods and treasure by the public, business institutions and Government, and this is a matter for justifiable pride. The booklet is handsomely illustrated and is being widely distributed wherever the Company operates.

Lanigan, general freight traffic manager from the services of the Company which he has served for forty-two continuous years. Mr. Lanigan is regarded as one of the outstanding authorities on rail rates, and, although relieved from active official duties at his own request, he will be retained in the company's service in order that his special knowledge and long experience in traffic matters may be available in connection with enquiries before the Board of Railway Commissioners.
